

Digital Course Materials at BYU

We are here to help you explore your options and find what will work best for you and your students, save them money, and protect their personal information

Day 1 Access - a Trusted and Proven Choice

- Provides affordable digital content for all registered students the first day of class.
- Can include eBook or Courseware (with added content, assignments, etc.)
- Previously called "Inclusive Access".
- Easily set up by faculty and delivered to students through Canvas or Learning Suite.
- Student information is securely shared with trusted digital providers who do not market to students or share their personal information.
- Complies with Federal Law (HEOA) requiring that students know, at the time of registration, the cost for each course, including materials, fees, etc.
- Approximately two weeks into the semester student accounts are charged for those who are registered and have not opted-out.
- Students can apply Financial Aid.
- Contact Louise Denton to confirm availability of the materials you plan to use.

Protect Your Students, Yourself, and BYU

- Many 3rd party providers of digital content do not have safe privacy policies, and put your students' personal information at risk.
- Most will market to students and even sell or share the students information for marketing purposes.
- To comply with FERPA, please contact us before referring students directly to digital content/resources whether free or paid.

Use HBLR Resources and eReserve

- You can search for digital materials available through the library and add links to them on Booklist.
- If the library has the digital rights to an eBook, articles, etc. you can request eReserve so students never leave the university systems to access the materials.
- Roger Dean can assist you with this.
